#MurderTrending by Gretchen McNeil. Dee has been wrongfully convicted and sent to an island dubbed Alcatraz 2.0., where the worst criminals are murdered in terrifyingly creative ways for an app called Postman. She refuses to go down when she knows she's innocent. Can she make it out with her Death Row Breakfast Club before they're all killed off one by one?

An Absolutely Remarkable Thing by Hank Green. April May and her best friend Andy have fame thrust upon them after their video of a strange statue in New York goes viral. As the world discovers there is far more to the statues than people initially suspected, April finds herself at the heart of a viral marketing campaign and her fame growing. She risks losing her relationships, her security, and her own identity.

Ace of Shades by Amanda Foody. Enne Sala is a proper lady trained in dancing and etiquette. When her mother disappears, Enne sets out to find her in New Reynes, the City of Sin, but is soon trapped in snares and plans set by the city's mafia families. As Enne is forced to play a dangerous game, she reconciles newfound secrets of her past and new decisions influencing her future.

American Panda by Gloria Chao. 17-year-old Mei is excited to finally be enjoying college life at MIT. What's less exciting, though, is the family pressure to become a doctor despite being a major germaphobe with a passion for dancing rather than anything medical. Things don't get any less complicated when Mei develops a forbidden crush on her Japanese classmate, Darren. Connecting with Darren against her parents' wishes, Mei begins to realize her own individual cultural identity.

The Apocalypse of Elena Mendoza by Shaun David Hutchinson. 16-year old Elena discovers that she has the ability to save people, but in the process, captures others in a golden light. Now, the voices she has been hearing since she was little are telling her it's the end of the world, and the people disappearing are being saved. Elena must decide whether to condemn humanity or "save the world" like the voices are telling her to do.

Ash Princess by Laura Sebastian. At the age of six, Theodosia lost everything and was forced into a life of torture under the unmerciful Kaiser, surviving by pushing her true self down. One night, the Kaiser forces her to do something unthinkable, sparking a rebellion inside of her. She has one weapon: her mind and she is determined to use it.

Batman: Nightwalker by Marie Lu. Bruce Wayne is about to inherit his parents' fortune and their company, but first must do community service. He volunteers at Arkham Asylum and meets Madeline who is unlike any one he has ever seen. Bruce must uncover why she is there in the first place to make sure the people he cares about don't end up dead.

The Belles by Dhonielle Clayton. Camille Beauregard is a talented belle, working to become the queen's favorite since she was born. When the queen asks her to do something that goes against all the rules she's been taught her whole life, Camille must decide on the kind of person she wants to be.

Blood Water Paint by Joy McCullough. Based on a true story, Artemisia Gentileschi is one of Italy's most talented painters, even though her father claims her artwork is his own. When she lost her mother, she chose to stay and apprentice with her father. Now, in the aftermath of a rape, she has the choice of living the rest of her life in peaceful silence or speaking up and facing the consequences of having a voice in a time dominated by men.

Children of Blood and Bone by Tomi Adeyemi. Zelie Adebola is a diviner, daughter of a powerful Major. But magic died after the treacherous King Saran found out how to destroy it and killed every Major in Orisha, including her mother. Now Zelie must fight through pain and hardship to get magic back for the sake of her people and Orisha itself.

The Cruel Prince by Holly Black. A human raised in the world of faeries, 17-year-old Jude does whatever is necessary to rise to the top, even if it means going against her own values. As she cuts her path into the dangerous world of Faerie court, she also must make choices concerning not only her family, but also her heart.

Dance of Thieves by Mary E. Pearson. Kazi is one of the Queen’s premier guard, and Elian is the new head of an outlaw family. Together their paths cross as they play a game of deception. As they betray and are betrayed, Jase and Kazi battle through a roller coaster of deceit, accusations, and possibly even love.

Darius The Great Is Not Okay by Adib Khorram. Darius doesn't feel like he fits in anywhere, not at home and definitely not at school. When his family decides to take a trip to Iran to visit his mom's family, He is certain it will be even worse there than at home. Lonely and depressed, Darius feels utterly lost, until Sohrab shows up and changes everything.

Frat Girl by Kiley Roache. Cassandra Davis got a scholarship to college by going undercover to uncover the dangers fraternities hold for women. As she rushes a frat recently put on probation for sexism, she thinks it will be easy to get them completely banned from the campus. As she gets closer with the brothers, she sees a different view of them.

Girl Made of Stars by Ashley Herring Blake. Torn between the family she loves and her own sense of right and wrong, Mara is feeling lost after her friend, Hannah, accuses her twin, of rape. As Mara, Hannah, and Charlie (her ex) navigate this terrain, she faces a trauma from her past to decide if Charlie fits in her future.

Isle of Blood and Stone by Maklla Lucier. Lord Elias’ father was presumably killed by spies from a neighboring kingdom. But when two copies of the same map are found, Elias recognizes it as his father's work, and sees it as a sign that he is alive. With the help of his close friends, he must find out the true nature of these maps, and find out what really happened on the day of his father's presumed death.

To Kill a Kingdom by Alexandra Christo. Lira is the daughter of the evil Sea Queen. When she disobeys her, she must redeem herself by killing The Siren-Killer, Prince Elian. Transformed into a human she journeys with him to find the Crystal of Keto. She wants it to defeat her mother and bring peace, but Elian wants to use it to destroy all sirens. Will their love compel them to a different ending?
Muse of Nightmares by Laini Taylor. After Lazlo and Sarai are transformed in their new selves, they struggle to determine their new limits and against both familiar and unfamiliar foes. In a world so filled with hate and vengeance, can peace, hope, and love be the answer? (Sequel to Strange the Dreamer)

Picture Us in the Light by Kelly Loy Gilbert. When Danny Cheng receives a scholarship from the school of his dreams, it seems his future is secured. This changes suddenly when he discovers a box in his father’s closet filled with information on a well-known Silicon Valley family. Danny begins to dig deeper into his family and the secrets his parents are hiding from him, while at the same time struggling with his friendships and the fast-approaching future.

The Poet X by Elizabeth Acevedo. Xiomara Batista feels unheard and unable to hide in her Harlem neighborhood. Ever since her body grew into curves, she has learned to let her fists and her fierceness do the talking. But Xiomara has plenty she wants to say, and she pours all her frustration and passion onto the pages of a leather notebook. When she discovers slam poetry, it becomes a way to help her understand her mother’s religion and her own relationship to the world.

The Prince and the Dressmaker by Jen Wang. Prince Sebastian has a secret that he keeps from everyone else. At night, he puts on a dress and disguises as Lady Crystallia. Only his dressmaker Frances knows about it. This means that both the prince and Frances would have to keep this a secret. But can Frances continue to defer her dreams to protect a friend?

Speak: The Graphic Novel by Laurie Halse Anderson and Emily Carroll. Melinda has a terrible secret; she was raped at a party during the summer by a high school senior. When she starts high school in the fall, she is shunned by her classmates because she called the police to the party at which she was attacked. This graphic novel describes her imminent struggle to overcome the shame of being a victim and an outcast.

Thunderhead by Neal Shusterman. Thunderhead is the perfect ruler of a perfect world, but its perfect world is starting to spiral out of control. Rowan is hunting down scythes that have abused their position, and Citra challenging old ideas as Scythe Anastasia. When Citra's life is put in danger, and other forces come into play, the Thunderhead is forced to watch as his world crashes down. (Sequel to Scythe)

The Unwanted: Stories of the Syrian Refugees by Don Brown. The Unwanted illustrates the refugee crisis in its beginning and its ongoing course of misery, bombings, and death that leave the refugees in constant fear. It explores the stories of refugees just searching for hope and a future, not only for themselves but for their children.

Wildcard by Marie Lu. After making it out of the Warcross Championships alive, Emika is determined to stop Hideo’s NeuroLink algorithm that can control minds. As Emika bands with the Phoenix Riders, she finds herself under a bounty that makes her chances of survival depend on Zero and the Blackcoats. She soon learns that Zero isn't what he seems and his protection comes at a price. (Sequel to Warcross)

Vote for your 3 favorite nominees to become the next Teens’ Top Ten! Vote Online Now thru October 15th @ www.ala.org/teenstopten

Young Adult Librarian
Sherry Seiler
Phone: 419-562-7327 Ext: 110
Email: sseiler@bucyruslibrary.org
200 East Mansfield Street
Bucyrus, Ohio 44820
http://bucyruslibrary.org/
www.facebook.com/bucyruslibraryteens

Vote online @ www.ala.org/teenstopten
Now thru October 15th
For more info, contact your local library.